The Inside Scoop

A DREAM TO CHANGE THE COMMUNITY

“Each friend represents a world in us, a world possibly not born until they arrive, and it is only by this meeting that a new world is born.”

— Anais Nin

Curtis Kimbrough and Reggie Coleman are two Indiana natives who bonded over their love for sports. It was in middle school that they discovered sports brought on opportunities for a better life.

After middle school, both of these young men became active in high school athletics. Out of all the sports, basketball was the sport that catapulted them into college.

After playing sports in college they were reconnected years later with a mindset to give back to the community in which they were raised.

Finally, they joined forces officially and created the continental give back. The Continental Giveback provides an opportunity for George Washington High School Alumni, Friends, and Families to Give Back to the Community through the game of Basketball.

"You will face many defeats in life, but never let yourself be defeated."

-Maya Angelou
